

THE AIR

MATTERS

YOU MATTER

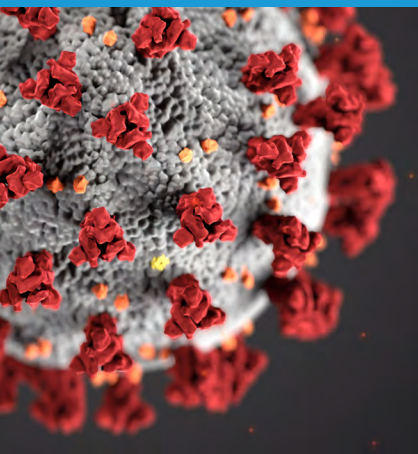

KASEL_{AIR}

Most people spend about 90% of their time indoors - at work, home or play - where the concentrations of viruses, bacteria, mold, allergens, volatile organic compounds (VOCs), odours, and particulates are often 5 times higher than typical outdoor concentrations.

ACTIVE AIR & SURFACE PURIFICATION

Poor indoor air quality (IAQ) impacts everyone's health, wellness, and productivity. The resulting sicknesses affect the well-being of countless Canadians each year, at work and in school. A truly amazing evolutionary shift in IAQ technology is now available in Canada. Swiss made Varionix air ionization systems are the safest and the most effective, robust and cost-efficient air purifiers for continuously decontaminating and keeping indoor air and surfaces clean. Varionix technology is available from Kasel Air and authorized resellers. So now you can breathe healthier air in your building.

HEALTH PROBLEMS ASSOCIATED WITH THE INDOOR AIR POLLUTANTS THAT YOU BREATHE INCLUDE:

SAVE MONEY WITH OUR CLEAN TECHNOLOGY

Users can save up to 50% on energy bills by recycling purified air. The reduced running of intake fans, and reduced heating and cooling of outdoor air also reduce users' carbon footprint. Furthermore, Varionix systems neutralize static electricity, thereby protecting equipment and mitigating fires and explosions. No other IAQ cleaning system compares.

HOW IT WORKS:

At the ocean, in forests, or outdoors, a common factor is elevated ion levels - nature's own purification system. Varionix generates bipolar ions by energizing oxygen molecules passing over tubes. In the ionization process, water molecules in the air bind around charged oxygen molecules, forming a medium-sized cluster of ions. These contaminant destroying ions are constantly replenished in the air stream, providing continuous protection for building occupants by attacking harmful pollutants in the air we breathe and on the surfaces we touch.

Varionix is the sole owner and seller of Bentax® Ionization Tube Technology, which mitigates coronavirus, influenza and other germs, mold, dust VOCs, odours, and ultra-fine particulates, thereby promoting better health, wellness, peace of mind, and productivity.

Recent studies have shown that with healthier building standards, the benefits are in the order of $6,000 to $7,000 per person per year.
